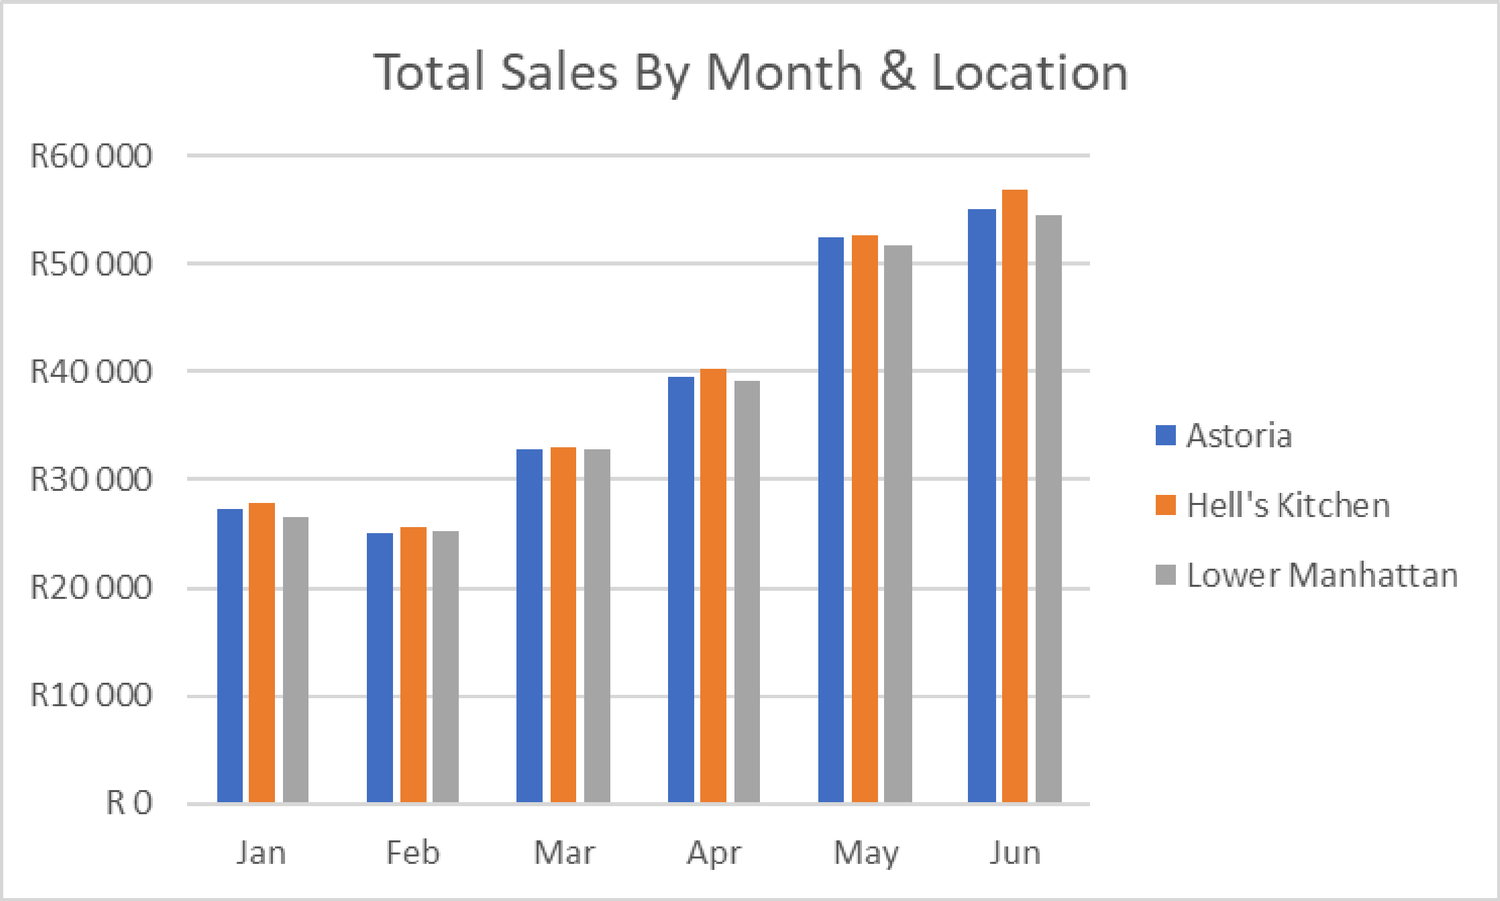
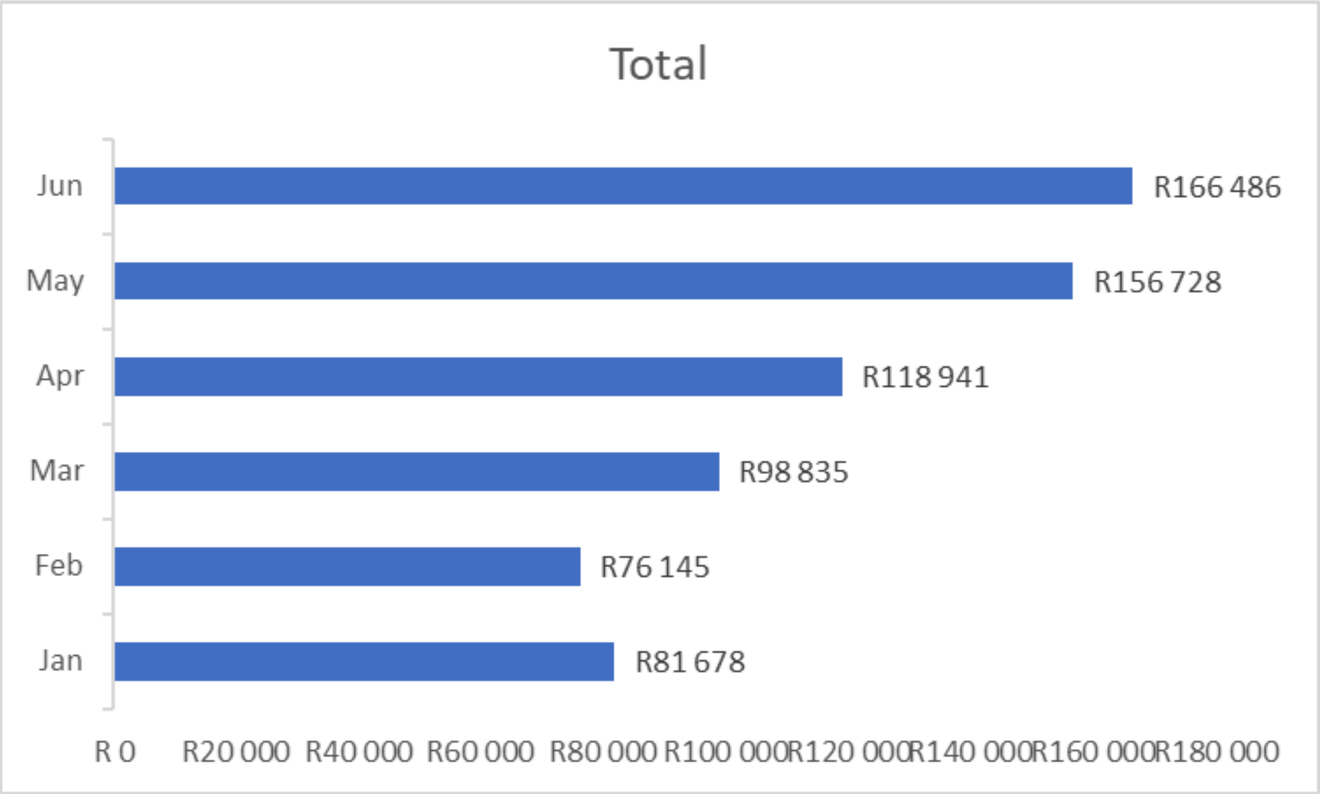
Sales Per Store

Insights: Hell’s Kitchen generates the most revenue ,then Astoria ,ending with Lower Manhattan being the store that generates the least revenue.



Revenue Per Month

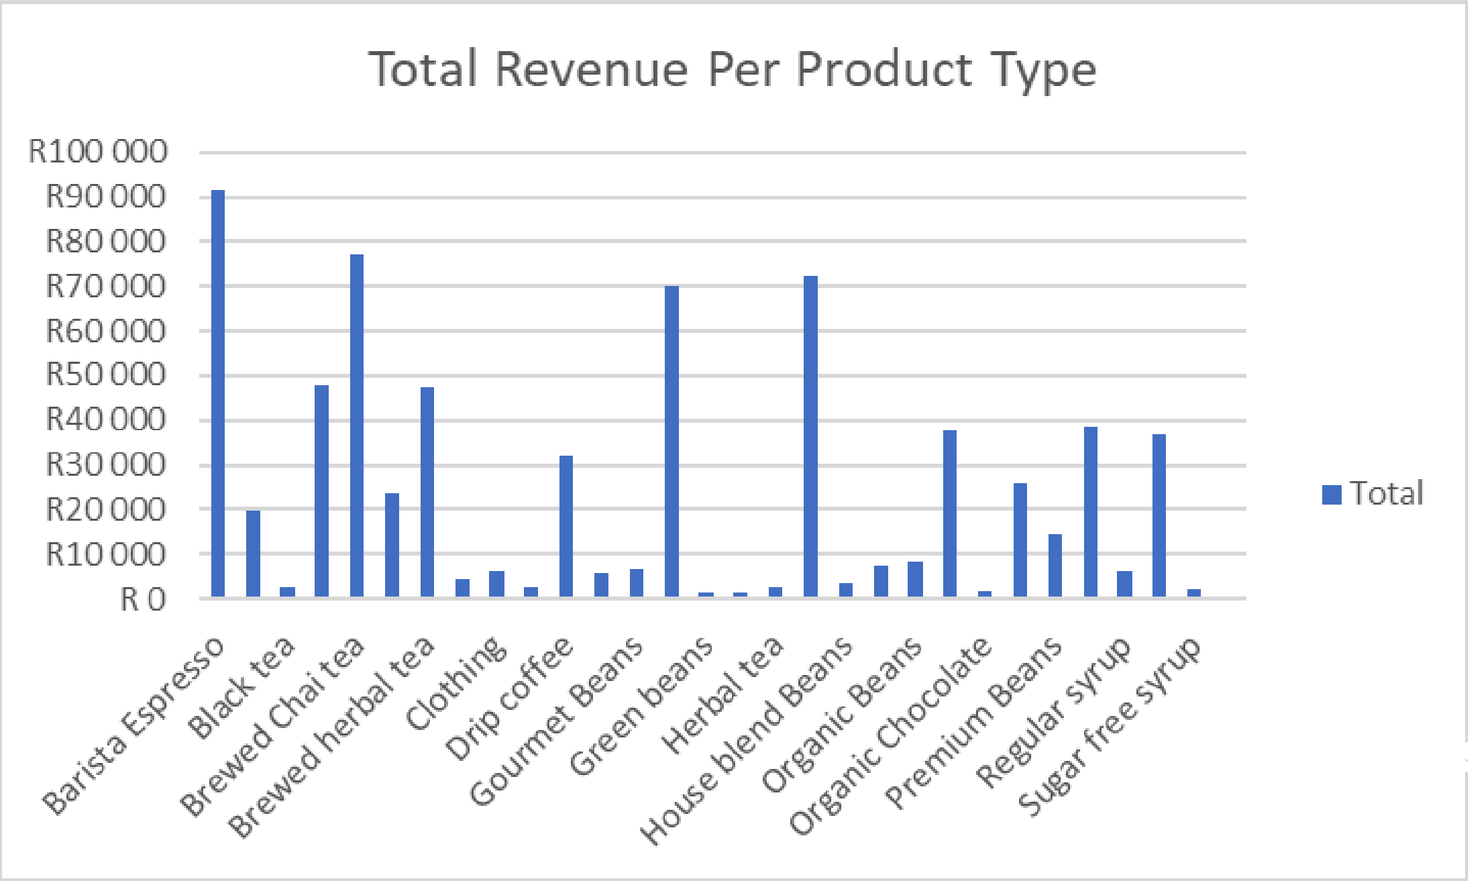
Insights: From January to June the revenue increased by more than 50%.This could be caused by a change in seasons,making people crave more hot drinks.



Revenue Per Product

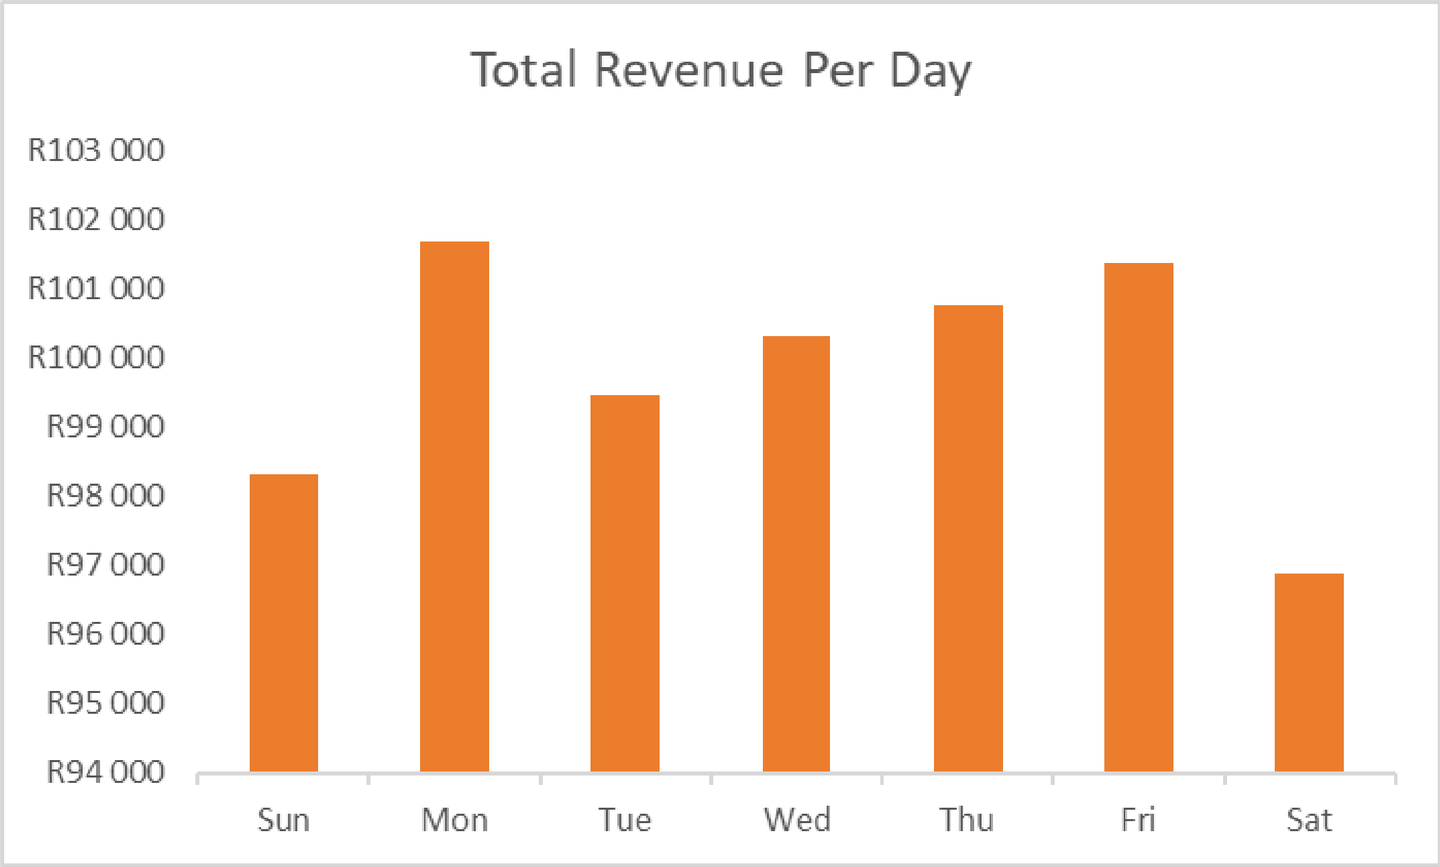
Insights: The top THREE selling products were ;

-Hot chocolate
-Brewed Chai Tea
-Barista Expresso



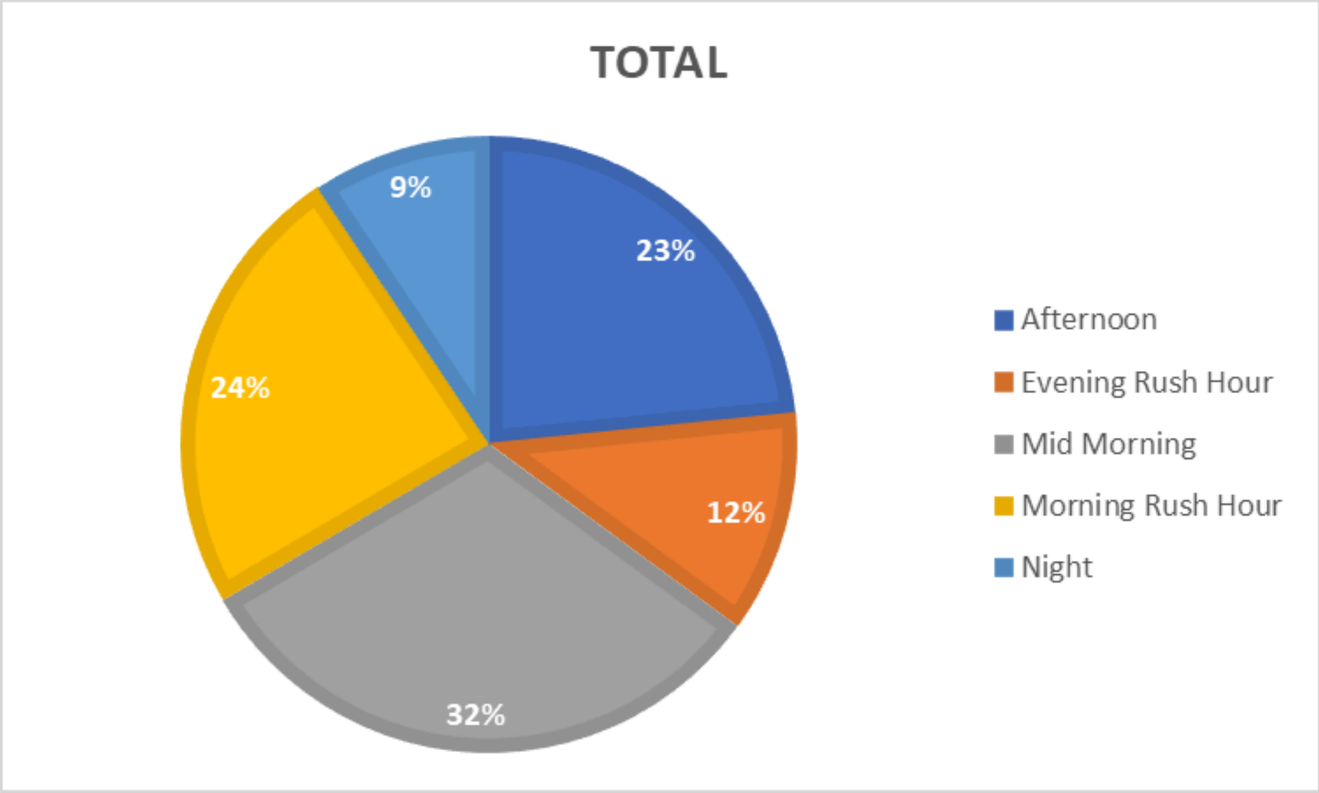
Revenue Per Day

Insights : Monday has the highest amount of revenue,this could be due to people needing an energy booster for the week ahead. Saturday has the lowest amount of sales



Revenue Per Time of day

Insights : Majority of the sales take place in the morning as 'Mid Morning (32%)' and 'Morning Rush Hour (24%)'. At 'Night' is where least amount of sales take place.



Growth Recommendations

Drinks For Summer :

Introduce smoothies and ice tea and coffees for summer ,to get customers constantly coming no matter the season.

Create specials:

Create specials or combos to get customers coming in not mostly on Mondays but also throughtout more days in a week.

Open new stores :

New stores can be opened in more strategic locations to take more share in the market

Implementations

Based on growth reccomendations

Drinks for summer :

-Research and select 3-5 new summer drinks(e.g fruit smoothies or iced latte's).

-"Summer Specials" to launch the new drinks

Weekday Specials :

-create day based specials such as (Two For One Tuesday's) and advertise these deals online

Opening new stores:

-Analyse sales data to identify high demand areas then launch grand openening if capital to open new stores is found
